This form is not a formal plan; it is only a guide to planning your studies. You will be required to manage your own enrolments and study sequence.

* IMPORTANT The School of Psychological Sciences recommends that commencing students do not enrol into the three core psychology units (PSYC1012, PSYC1022 and PSYC1032) during the same trimester of enrolment. This recommendation is in recognition of the workload involved in each of these units and is offered to best support commencing students to achieve the best possible outcomes in these foundation units. Please see our recommended sequencing of unit completion here.
